Compare: 1996 No 27 Schedule 4 cl 3

13 Fair market value

- (1) For the purposes of this clause,—

 - (b) similar goods means goods that closely resemble the goods being valued in respect of component materials and parts and characteristics and that are functionally and commercially interchangeable with the goods being valued, having regard to the quality and reputation of the goods being valued:
 - (c) a sale in the open market means—
 - (i) that the price is the sole consideration; and

- (ii) that the price is not influenced by any commercial, financial, or other ties, whether by contract or otherwise, between the seller, or any person associated in business with the seller, and the buyer, or any person associated in business with the buyer (other than the relationship created by the sale of the goods in question); and
 - (iii) that no part of the proceeds of any subsequent resale, use, or disposal of the goods will accrue, either directly or indirectly, to the seller, or to any person associated in business with the seller:
- (d) 2 persons are treated as being associated in business with each other if, whether directly or indirectly, either of them has any interest in the business or property of the other, or both have a common interest in any business or property, or some third person has an interest in the business or property of both of them:
- (e) in determining a fair market value in accordance with this clause, the chief executive must—
 - (i) use only those prices that represent a sale between buyers and sellers independent of each other; and
 - (ii) exclude from the price any excise duty and goods and services tax.
- (2) The fair market value of any goods must be determined by applying sequentially subclauses (3) to (8) to the first subclause under which fair market value can be determined.
- (3) The fair market value of any goods on the date given by clause 12 is the lowest price for which identical goods in the same or substantially the same quantities are generally sold at that date in the open market in New Zealand on sales freely offered and made on ordinary trade terms by a licensee of a manufacturing area, other than a contractor.
- (4) If, in the chief executive's opinion, the fair market value cannot be determined under subclause (3), it is the lowest price for which identical goods in quantities different from those being sold are generally sold at that date in the open market in New Zealand on sales freely offered and made on ordinary trade terms by a licensee of a manufacturing area, other than a contractor.
- (5) If, in the chief executive's opinion, the fair market value cannot be determined under subclause (4), it is the lowest price for which similar goods in the same or substantially the same quantities are generally sold at that date in the open market in New Zealand on sales freely offered and made on ordinary trade terms by a licensee of a manufacturing area, other than a contractor.
- (6) If, in the chief executive's opinion, the fair market value cannot be determined under subclause (5), it is the lowest price for which similar goods in quantities different from those being sold are generally sold at that date in the open market in New Zealand on sales freely offered and made on ordinary trade terms by a licensee of a manufacturing area, other than a contractor.

- (7) If, in the chief executive's opinion, the fair market value cannot be determined under subclause (6), the chief executive must determine the price that the goods would generally fetch at the retail level and deduct from that price an amount that reasonably represents the profit margin and other costs beyond the manufacturing level on those goods.
- (8) If, in the chief executive's opinion, the fair market value cannot be determined under subclause (7), the chief executive must determine the value of the goods by taking the costs of the production of the goods and adding an amount that reasonably represents the profit margin and other costs to the manufacturing level of those goods.

Part 1

Method 1: transaction value

Use of transaction value

4 Basis for determining Customs value

- (1) The primary basis for determining the Customs value of imported goods is the transaction value of the goods.
- (2) Subclause (3) applies if—
 - (a) the chief executive is of the opinion that the transaction value cannot be used to determine the Customs value of the goods because the requirements of clause 5 are not met; or
 - (b) the chief executive is of the opinion that an adjustment that is required to be made under clause 7(b), (c), or (d) cannot be made because of a lack of sufficient information; or
 - (c) the chief executive has reason to doubt the truth or accuracy of the Customs value of the goods as included in their entry.
- (3) The chief executive may determine the Customs value of the goods by proceeding sequentially through methods 2 to 6 to the first method under which the Customs value can, in the opinion of the chief executive, be determined.
- (4) The chief executive may proceed under subclause (3) in reliance on subclause (2)(c) only if the chief executive has first sought further explanation or other evidence that the Customs value included in the entry represents the total amount actually paid or payable for the imported goods.
- (5) If the chief executive proceeds under subclause (3), the chief executive must reverse the order of consideration of methods 4 and 5 if requested by the importer.

Compare: 1996 No 27 Schedule 2 cls 2(5), (6), 3(4)

5 When transaction value of goods can be used

The transaction value can be used to determine the Customs value of imported goods only if—

- (a) there are no restrictions respecting the disposition or use of the goods by the buyer, other than restrictions that—
 - (i) are imposed by law; or
 - (ii) limit the geographical area in which the goods may be resold; or

- (iii) do not substantially affect the value of the goods; and
- (b) neither the sale of the goods nor the price paid or payable for the goods is subject to some condition or consideration in respect of which a value cannot be determined; and
- (c) where any part of the proceeds of any subsequent resale, disposal, or use of the goods by the buyer is to accrue, directly or indirectly, to the seller, the price paid or payable for the goods includes the value of that part of the proceeds or can be adjusted in accordance with clause 7; and
- (d) the buyer and seller are not related at the time the goods are sold for export to New Zealand or, if they are related at that time, the importer complies with clause 6 if required by the chief executive to do so.

Compare: 1996 No 27 Schedule 2 cl 2(1)

6 Sales between related persons

- (1) This clause applies to an importer if the chief executive requires the importer to comply with this clause under clause 5(d).
- (2) The importer must produce to the chief executive either the evidence referred to in subclause (3) or the evidence referred to in subclause (4).
- (3) The evidence to be produced under this subclause is evidence that demonstrates that the relationship between the buyer and the seller did not influence the price paid or payable for the goods, including (without limitation) evidence of—
 - (a) how the buyer and seller organise their commercial relations; and
 - (b) how the price paid or payable for the goods was determined.
- (4) The evidence to be produced under this subclause is evidence that demonstrates that the transaction value of the goods being valued, taking into consideration any relevant factors and differences (including any prescribed factors and differences), closely approximates the Customs value of other goods exported at the same time, or at substantially the same time, as the goods being valued, being—
 - (a) the transaction value of identical goods or similar goods that are sold for export to New Zealand where the seller and buyer are not related at the time the goods are sold; or
 - (b) the deductive value of identical goods or similar goods determined in accordance with Part 4 of this schedule; or
 - (c) the computed value of identical goods or similar goods determined in accordance with Part 5 of this schedule.
- (5) The evidence referred to in subclause (4) may include (without limitation) the following information as relevant:
 - (a) the nature of the goods being valued:

- (b) the nature of the industry that produces the goods being valued:
 - (c) the season in which the goods being valued are imported:
 - (d) whether a difference in values is commercially significant:
 - (e) the trade levels at which the sales take place:
 - (f) the quantity of the sales:
 - (g) any of the amounts referred to in clause 7 or 8:
 - (h) the costs, charges, or expenses that—
 - (i) are incurred by a seller when the seller sells to a buyer to whom the seller is not related; but
 - (ii) are not incurred when the seller sells to a buyer to whom the seller is related.
- (6) Subclause (7) applies if the chief executive is of the opinion that any evidence produced by the importer under subclause (3) or (4) does not demonstrate the matter that it is required to demonstrate under that subclause.
- (7) The chief executive must—
- (a) inform the importer, in writing if so requested, of the grounds on which the chief executive formed the opinion; and
 - (b) give the importer a reasonable opportunity to satisfy the chief executive that the evidence does demonstrate the matter in question.

Calculation

7 Calculation of transaction value

The transaction value of imported goods is to be calculated by—

- (a) taking the price paid or payable for the goods when sold for export to New Zealand; and

 - (ii) the packing costs and charges incurred by the buyer in respect of the goods, including the cost of cartons, cases, and other containers and coverings that are treated for customs purposes as being part of the imported goods and all expenses of packing incidental to placing the goods in the condition in which they are shipped to New Zealand:

- (iii) the value of the following goods and services, determined in accordance with clause 8, where they have been supplied (directly or indirectly) by the buyer free of charge, or at a reduced cost, for use in connection with the production and sale for export of the imported goods:

- (v) the value of any part of the proceeds of any subsequent resale, disposal, or use of the goods by the buyer that accrues or is to accrue, directly or indirectly, to the seller:
- (vi) the value of any materials, component parts, and other goods incorporated in the imported goods for the purpose of repair to, or refurbishment of, those goods prior to export of the goods to New Zealand, and the price paid for the service of repair or refurbishment, as the case may be:
- (vii) the costs of transportation and insurance of, and the loading, unloading, and handling charges, and other charges and expenses associated with the transportation of, the imported goods until the goods have left the country of export if those costs, charges, and expenses are paid or payable by the buyer, directly or indirectly, to or for the benefit of the seller as a condition of the transaction; and
- (c) on the basis of sufficient information, deducting amounts (to the extent that each amount is included in the price paid or payable for the goods when sold for export to New Zealand) equal to the following:
 - (i) the costs of transportation and insurance of, and the loading, unloading, and handling charges, and other charges and expenses associated with the transportation of, the imported goods from the time the goods have left the country of export, other than any cost, charge, or expense referred to in subparagraph (ii)(B):

- (ii) any of the following costs, charges, or expenses if the cost, charge, or expense is identified separately from the balance of the price paid or payable for the goods when sold for export to New Zealand:
 - (A) any reasonable cost, charge, or expense that is incurred for the construction, erection, assembly, or maintenance of, or technical assistance provided in respect of, the goods after the goods are imported:
 - (B) any reasonable cost, charge, or expense that is incurred in respect of or in association with the transportation or insurance of the goods within New Zealand:
 - (C) any Customs duties or other taxes payable in New Zealand in relation to the importation or sale of the goods; and
- (d) in respect of carrier media bearing data or instructions, deducting the value of the data or instructions if—
 - (i) the value of the data or instructions is distinguished from the cost or value of the carrier media; and
 - (ii) the data or instructions are not incorporated in data processing equipment.

8 Calculation of transaction value: value of goods and services supplied by buyer

- (1) The value of the goods and services described in clause 7(b)(iii) must be—
 - (a) determined in accordance with this clause; and
 - (b) apportioned to the imported goods—
 - (i) in a reasonable manner; and
 - (ii) in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles.
- (2) The value of materials, component parts, and other goods incorporated in the goods being valued or any materials consumed in the production of the goods being valued must be determined by adding—
 - (a) their cost of acquisition or production, being—
 - (i) their cost of acquisition where they were acquired by the buyer from a person who was not related to the buyer at the time of their acquisition; or
 - (ii) their cost of acquisition incurred by the person related to the buyer, where they were acquired by the buyer from a person who was related to the buyer at the time of their acquisition but who did not produce them; or

- (iii) their cost of production where they were produced by the buyer or a person related to the buyer at the time of their production; and

 - (a) by adding—
 - (i) their cost of acquisition or production, being—
 - (A) their cost of acquisition where they were acquired by the buyer from a person who was not related to the buyer at the time they were so acquired; or
 - (B) their cost of acquisition incurred by the person related to the buyer, where they were acquired by the buyer from a person who was related to the buyer at the time they were so acquired but who did not produce them; or

 - (ii) the cost of their transportation to the place of production of the goods being valued; and
 - (iii) the value added to them by any repairs or modifications made to them after they were so acquired or produced; and
 - (b) by deducting an amount to account for any previous use of the goods made after the goods were so acquired or produced.
- (4) The value of engineering, development work, artwork, design work, plans, and sketches, which were undertaken elsewhere than in New Zealand and were necessary for the production of the goods being valued, must be determined by ascertaining—

 - (i) were acquired or leased by the buyer from a person who was not related at the time to the buyer; and
 - (ii) are not generally available to the public; or
 - (b) the cost of acquiring or leasing those goods and services by the person related to the buyer, where they—

 - (i) the costs, charges, and expenses referred to in clause 7(b)(vii) in respect of the identical goods; and
 - (ii) those costs, charges, and expenses in respect of the goods being valued; and

 - (i) in the trade levels of the buyers of the identical goods and the goods being valued; and
 - (ii) in the quantities in which the identical goods and the goods being valued were sold.
- (2) If there are 2 or more transaction values of identical goods that meet all the requirements set out in subclause (1)(a), the Customs value of the goods being valued must be determined on the basis of the lowest such transaction value (determined after the transaction values have been adjusted under subclause (1)(b) and (c)).

 - (i) exported at the same, or substantially the same, time as the goods being valued; and
 - (ii) sold for export to New Zealand—
 - (A) to a buyer at the same, or substantially the same, trade level as the buyer of the goods being valued; and
 - (B) in the same, or substantially the same, quantities as the goods being valued; and
 - (b) on the basis of sufficient information, adding or deducting amounts to account for commercially significant differences between the following that are attributable to differences in distances and modes of transport:
 - (i) the costs, charges, and expenses referred to in clause 7(b)(vii) in respect of the similar goods; and
 - (ii) those costs, charges, and expenses in respect of the goods being valued.
- (2) If there are 2 or more transaction values of similar goods that meet all the requirements set out in subclause (1)(a), the Customs value of the goods being valued must be determined on the basis of the lowest such transaction value (determined after the transaction values have been adjusted under subclause (1)(b)).

Compare: 1996 No 27 Schedule 2 cl 5(1)

12 Transaction value of similar goods not sold at same trade level or quantity

- (1) If the Customs value of the goods being valued cannot be determined under clause 11 because similar goods were not sold under the conditions described in clause 11(1)(a)(ii), the Customs value may be determined by—
- (a) taking the transaction value of similar goods that were—
 - (i) exported at the same, or substantially the same, time as the goods being valued; and
 - (ii) sold for export to New Zealand—
 - (A) to a buyer at the same, or substantially the same, trade level as the buyer of the goods being valued but in quantities

- (C) to a buyer at a trade level different from that of the buyer of the goods being valued and in quantities different from the quantities in which those goods were sold; and
- (b) on the basis of sufficient information, adding or deducting amounts to account for commercially significant differences between the following that are attributable to differences in distances and modes of transport:
- (i) the costs, charges, and expenses referred to in clause 7(b)(vii) in respect of the similar goods; and
- (ii) those costs, charges, and expenses in respect of the goods being valued; and
- (c) on the basis of sufficient information, adding or deducting amounts to account for commercially significant differences—
- (i) in the trade levels of the buyers of the similar goods and the goods being valued; and
- (ii) in the quantities in which the similar goods and the goods being valued were sold.
- (2) If there are 2 or more transaction values of similar goods that meet all the requirements set out in subclause (1)(a), the Customs value of the goods being valued must be determined on the basis of the lowest such transaction value (determined after the transaction values have been adjusted under subclause (1)(b) and (c)).

- (a) calculated on a percentage basis; and
 - (b) determined on the basis of information that is prepared in a manner consistent with generally accepted accounting principles and—
 - (i) that is supplied by or on behalf of the importer; or
 - (ii) if the information supplied by or on behalf of the importer is not sufficient information, that is obtained from an examination of sales in New Zealand of the narrowest group or range of goods of the same class or kind as the goods being valued from which sufficient information can, in the opinion of the chief executive, be obtained.

Part 5

Method 5: computed value

19 Computed value as Customs value

If, in the opinion of the chief executive, the Customs value of the goods being valued cannot be determined under Parts 1 to 4 of this schedule, the Customs value is to be the computed value of the goods.

Compare: 1996 No 27 Schedule 2 cl 7(1)

20 Computed value

- (1) The computed value of the goods being valued is the aggregate of—
- (a) amounts—

- (i) equal to the costs, charges, and expenses incurred in respect of, or the value of, the production or other processing of, and the materials employed in producing, the goods; and
 - (ii) determined on the basis of the commercial accounts of the producer of the goods, or other sufficient information, that are supplied by or on behalf of the producer and prepared in a manner consistent with the generally accepted accounting principles of the country of production of the goods; and
 - (b) the amount, determined in accordance with subclause (3), of profit and general expenses, considered together as a whole, generally reflected in sales for export to New Zealand of goods of the same class or kind as the goods being valued, made by the producers of the goods to buyers in New Zealand who are not related to the producers from whom they buy the goods at the time the goods are sold to them.
- (2) The costs, charges, and expenses referred to in subclause (1)(a) include (without limitation) the following:
- (a) the costs, charges, and expenses referred to in clause 7(b)(ii):
 - (b) the value of any of the goods and services referred to in clause 7(b)(iii) and (vi), determined and apportioned to the goods being valued as referred to in clause 8 as relevant, whether or not such goods and services have been supplied free of charge or at a reduced cost:
 - (c) the costs, charges, and expenses incurred by the producer in respect of engineering, development work, artwork, design work, plans, or sketches undertaken in New Zealand that were supplied, directly or indirectly, by the buyer of the goods being valued for use in connection with the production and sale for export of those goods to the extent that such elements are charged to the producer of the goods, apportioned to the goods being valued as referred to in clause 8.
- (3) The amount of profit and general expenses referred to in subclause (1)(b) must be calculated on a percentage basis and determined on the basis of information—
- (a) prepared in a manner consistent with generally accepted accounting principles of the country of production of the goods being valued; and
 - (b) supplied—
 - (i) by or on behalf of the producer of the goods being valued; or
 - (ii) where the information supplied by or on behalf of the producer of the goods being valued is not sufficient information, by an examination of sales for export to New Zealand of the narrowest group or range of goods of the same class or kind from which sufficient information can, in the opinion of the chief executive, be obtained.

- (4) In this clause, general expenses means the direct and indirect costs, charges, and expenses of producing and selling goods for export, other than the costs, charges, and expenses referred to in subclause (1)(a).

Compare: 1996 No 27 Schedule 2 cl 7(2)–(4)

Part 6

Method 6: residual basis of valuation

21 Residual basis of valuation

- (1) If the Customs value of the goods being valued cannot, in the opinion of the chief executive, be determined under Parts 1 to 5 of this schedule, it is to be determined, using information available in New Zealand, on the basis of a value derived from the methods of valuation set out in Parts 1 to 5 interpreted in a flexible manner and reasonably adjusted to the extent necessary to arrive at a Customs value of the goods.
- (2) However, the Customs value of the goods may not be determined on the basis of—
- (a) the selling price in New Zealand of goods produced in New Zealand; or
 - (b) a basis which provides for the acceptance of the higher of 2 alternative values; or
 - (c) the price of goods on the domestic market of the country of exportation; or
 - (d) the cost of production, other than computed values that have been determined for identical or similar goods in accordance with clause 20; or
 - (e) the price of goods for export to a country other than New Zealand, unless the goods were imported into New Zealand; or
 - (f) minimum customs values; or
 - (g) to avoid doubt, arbitrary or fictitious values.
