 - (ii) if the claims are different, the claims on the label of the proposed chemical product are fewer or reduced compared to the claims on the approved label of the reference chemical product.
- (3) Subject to clause 1.5, a veterinary chemical product (the proposed chemical product) and a reference chemical product are closely similar if:
 - (a) the active constituents in the proposed chemical product are the same as the approved active constituents in the reference chemical product; and
 - (b) the concentration of the active constituents referred to in paragraph (a) are the same; and
 - (c) either:
 - (i) the non-active constituents in the formulations of the proposed and reference chemical products are the same, or are equivalent substances, at the same or equivalent concentrations; or
 - (ii) if the non-active constituents in the formulations of the proposed and reference chemical products are neither the same nor equivalent, the differences in the formulations are minor and are not expected to have adverse implications on product quality or biological activity in terms of efficacy, safety or residues; and
 - (d) either:
 - (i) the proposed and reference chemical products specifications (including release and expiry limits and test methods) and physico-chemical properties (including pH, particle size, crystal form and, where applicable, dissolution profile, payout rate and payout period) are the same or equivalent; or
 - (ii) if the specifications and physico-chemical properties of the proposed and reference chemical products are neither the same nor equivalent, the differences in the specifications and properties are minor and are not expected to have adverse implications for product quality or biological activity in terms of efficacy, safety or residues; and

Note for paragraphs (c) and (d): Efficacy, safety and residues data are not required to demonstrate similarity of the proposed chemical product to the reference chemical product.

- (e) the dose form and formulation type of the proposed and reference chemical products are the same; and
- (f) the use patterns (including target animal species, dose rates, routes of administration and withholding periods) and instructions on the labels of the proposed and reference chemical products are the same; and
- (g) either:
 - (i) the claims on the labels of the proposed and reference chemical products are the same; or
 - (ii) if the claims are different, the claims on the label of the proposed chemical product are fewer or reduced compared to the claims on the approved label of the reference chemical product.

1.3 When chemical products are similar

- (1) Subject to clause 1.5, an agricultural chemical product (the proposed agricultural chemical product) and a reference chemical product are similar if the conditions in paragraphs 1.2(1)(a), (d), (e), (f) and (g) are complied with in relation to the products.
- (3) Subject to clause 1.5, a veterinary chemical product (the proposed veterinary chemical product) and a reference chemical product are similar if:
 - (a) the conditions in paragraphs 1.2(3)(a), (b), (e), (f) and (g) are complied with in relation to the products; and
 - (b) the non-active constituents in the proposed and reference chemical products have similar properties and are in similar proportions; and
 - (c) chemistry and manufacture, efficacy or target species safety data is required to demonstrate similarity of the proposed chemical product to the reference chemical product.

1.4 When chemical products are the same

Subject to clause 1.5, a proposed chemical product and a reference chemical product are the same if they are the same in all respects except their names, their distinguishing numbers, and the name and business address of the applicant.

1.5 When chemical products are not closely similar, similar or the same

- (1) Despite clauses 1.2, 1.3 and 1.4, a proposed chemical product and a reference chemical product are not closely similar, similar or the same if:
 - (a) the APVMA is required to use information in determining an application in respect of the proposed chemical product; and
 - (b) the use of the information by the APVMA in determining that application is restricted.

Clause 1.6

- (2) The use of information by the APVMA in determining an application is restricted if the APVMA is restricted from using the information in determining the application by:
- (a) Division 4A of Part 2 of the Code; or
 - (b) Part 3 of the Code.

1.6 Effect on fees when the use of information is restricted

- (1) If the use of information by the APVMA about an active constituent is restricted, the fee payable for an application that would otherwise rely on or utilise that information is to be determined as if the active constituent were not approved.
- (2) If the use of information by the APVMA about a registered chemical product is restricted, the fee payable for an application that would otherwise rely on or utilise that information is to be determined as if the chemical product were not registered.
- (3) If the use of information by the APVMA about an approved label for containers for a chemical product is restricted, the fee payable for an application that would otherwise rely on or utilise that information is to be determined as if the label were not approved.

1.7 Fee when application for registration preceded by application for permit

If:

- (a) an application for the registration of a chemical product is preceded by an application for a permit in relation to the product; and
- (b) the assessment of the permit is relevant to, and included as, part of the assessment of the product;

despite anything else in Part 2 or in Schedule 7, the fee for the application for the registration of the product is to be worked out using the modular assessment fee only for any additional assessments that are actually undertaken by the APVMA at the time of the assessment.

Endnote 1—About the endnotes

The endnotes provide information about this compilation and the compiled law.

The following endnotes are included in every compilation:

Endnote 1—About the endnotes

Endnote 2—Abbreviation key

Endnote 3—Legislation history

Endnote 4—Amendment history

Abbreviation key—Endnote 2

The abbreviation key sets out abbreviations that may be used in the endnotes.

Legislation history and amendment history—Endnotes 3 and 4

Amending laws are annotated in the legislation history and amendment history.

The legislation history in endnote 3 provides information about each law that has amended (or will amend) the compiled law. The information includes commencement details for amending laws and details of any application, saving or transitional provisions that are not included in this compilation.

The amendment history in endnote 4 provides information about amendments at the provision (generally section or equivalent) level. It also includes information about any provision of the compiled law that has been repealed in accordance with a provision of the law.

Editorial changes

The Legislation Act 2003 authorises First Parliamentary Counsel to make editorial and presentational changes to a compiled law in preparing a compilation of the law for registration. The changes must not change the effect of the law. Editorial changes take effect from the compilation registration date.

If the compilation includes editorial changes, the endnotes include a brief outline of the changes in general terms. Full details of any changes can be obtained from the Office of Parliamentary Counsel.

Misdescribed amendments

A misdescribed amendment is an amendment that does not accurately describe how an amendment is to be made. If, despite the misdescription, the amendment can be given effect as intended, then the misdescribed amendment can be incorporated through an editorial change made under section 15V of the Legislation Act 2003.

If a misdescribed amendment cannot be given effect as intended, the amendment is not incorporated and “(md not incorp)” is added to the amendment history.
